''WHEN HEAVEN COMES DOWN''

JUNIOR - SENIOR BANQUET AND PROM

On April 10, 1987, the Junior class honored the Seniors with the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. Decorations of blue and silver metallic ribbons and table centerpieces carried out the theme "When Heaven Comes Down." Junior class president Scott Eckholdt welcomed the Seniors and guests, followed by Stacey Hall giving the invocation. The traditional Junior-Senior Toasts were led by Scott Eckholdt and Laura Gray. At the end of the banquet, Cindy Carter read a poem she composed in honor of the Junior class. The banquet concluded with the crowning of the Prom King and Queen, Lee Williams and Tammy Taylor.

In the gym the theme was carried out with decorations consisting of a tunnel containing blue and white balloons, a white gazebo, from which white flowers were draped, and a large white fountain. White gossamer curtains separated the dance floor from the theme area. Blue and silver streamers formed the ceiling.
